Remembering Our Friend, Bob Ontiveros

HUMANITARIAN. VISIONARY. INNOVATOR.

We are deeply saddened by the loss of a true friend, advocate and supporter of our station and educational outreach efforts. Bob Ontiveros, founder of Group O, embraced the importance of educational television for all ages, our community outreach efforts for the entire region, and the lifelong learning opportunities they create.

The (Bob and Blenda) Ontiveros Family Fund provided the lead gift in our recently completed ASPIRE HIGHER capital campaign which funded the replacement of our transmitter and antenna. That vital infrastructure update expands our reach, helping to ensure purposeful public broadcasting for the entire region. Bob and Blenda’s long-time support of the station has created a legacy that will live on for generations to come—helping us provide programming and services that educate, enlighten, and entertain—impacting countless lives.

We are also deeply grateful to have Bob’s grand-daughter, Maria Ontiveros (Mercado on Fifth), who serves on our Community Advisory Board. Maria carries her family’s spirit of community, social responsibility and helping others find pathways to success.

Maria said, “people gushed over him (Bob)—not because of his accomplishments but because of the way he made them feel. I just love how he kept in touch with everyone and made sure they are seen and heard.” She went on to add, “That’s why he is my role model. That’s why I want to be like him. I don’t know where I would be without him. He has influenced my life more than anyone else.”

“He was the type of friend you looked forward to talking with. I could always hear the smile in his voice. Often he would end conversations by offering something affirming about the work we are doing,” said Terry Wilson, “WQPT PBS Development Director.

Spring is in the air!

It’s that time of year again! The birds are chirping, soon the flowers will begin blooming, and the entire family is ready to get outside. Explore the outdoors, discover fun nature crafts, and learn more about the world outside our doorsteps.

When we spend time outside at home, visiting a park, riding bicycles, taking a walk around the neighborhood or along a river, our senses come alive! We can inspire our children to observe and understand nature by listening for animal sounds, feeling the texture of rocks, seeing the shade made by the trees, smelling freshly cut grass, and tasting raindrops as they fall from the sky.

Last month, in conjunction with PBS, we added a vast virtual library of content to our website for parents featuring articles, an Activity Finder, age-by-age tips and activities, and more. wqpt.org/parents

It’s Time to Explore

EXPLORE WITH MR. SCOTT is our popular short-segment series that encourages children to ask questions, try different ways of using materials and have new experiences focusing on nature. Whether listening to outdoor sounds, tracking the seasons, or exploring how birds build their nests, there’s something fun and easy for everyone!

The series provides parents and caregivers simple and inexpensive ways to interact with children to help them discover the wonders surrounding them. Get ideas, watch segments, and download Mr. Scott’s companion Exploration Kit and Activity Sheets at wqpt.org/explore.

Gratitude & Appreciation

As you may recall, last year, we pivoted from our annual gala fundraiser, Champagne on the Rocks, to a “virtual” online auction. The event generates vital revenue for our programming and regional outreach initiatives and services.

“On behalf of WQPT PBS, I would like to thank our viewers, supporters, sponsors and the WQPT team who helped make this virtual and televised event a success,” said Dawn Schmitt, General Manager. She added, “we are grateful for the support and look forward to the return of in-person events, where we can gather to engage with our viewers and supporters. Thank you.
